

The Messiah Choral Society...

- Orlando's longest running free cultural arts performance.
- Is a holiday tradition for the Greater Orlando Area.
- Has performed yearly since 1973.
- Performs Handel's Messiah, free to the public, every year.
- Will perform at Bob Carr Theater the Sunday after Thanksgiving, at 3:00 p.m. (there are no tickets - doors open at 2:15 p.m.)
- Fills the 2,200 seat concert hall to capacity.
- Dr. John Sinclair, Chairman of the Music Department at Rollins College, is Music Director and conductor of the Messiah Choral Society.
- Performs with professional soloists and professional orchestra.
- Brings down the house when it sings the Hallelujah Chorus.
- Is an all-volunteer choir that achieves professional standards.
- Publishes a world class program.
- Has a hard working group of volunteer members who raise money through program advertisement, peanut sales, and solicited donations, enabling us to present this performance as a free gift to the Central Florida Community.
- Needs and asks for donations from all who can to help us make our goal. We are a 501 (c) (3) not-for-profit organization, so contributions are usually tax deductible.

The Messiah Choral Society intends to be in existence for the long-term and so has established an endowment to help sustain its activities. The Society has a website for all to explore, at www.messiahchoralsociety.org.

The Messiah Choral Society invites you to its concert this and every year and also hopes that you will support us in bringing this brilliant and endearing gift to all of the people of our community. Thank you!
